FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

WEDNISDAY, Sept. 15-6 P. M. The gold market developed increased strength and activity to-day, and the price gradually advanced from 144%, soon after the commencement of business, to 145%, with the closing transactions at 145%. There was no special cause for the advance, if we except a certain degree of depression in five-tweaties abroad, supposed to be owing to the fear that the arguments of Butler, Pendleton and others in favor of paying off the funded tobs in legal tember zooza may take practical shape at exist on the subject among those conversant with the sentiment of the Western people in this partiattach much importance to it at present. The has lies in the commercial demand for gold to pay foreign trade balances against us; and next in point of sequence is the antagonism which exists between the President and Congress on the reconstruction ques-tion and the uncertain results to which it may lead. Cash gold was abundant, and loans were made without interest and at 1 a 5 per cent for carrying. The gross earings amounted to $51,212,030, the gold balances to $1,980,724, and the currency balances to $3,608,455.

The state of the money market is now the lead-ng topic of conversation on the Stock Exchange, account of its induence upon prices. The the banks combined have succeeded producing considerable apprehension among the mid relative to its future course, and by withholding a arge amount of currency from active use they have cases temporarily, although not a few loans were ande to-day at six. A fair quotation for money is 6 ling dealers in government securities have loans still standing at four per cent, and they can borrow all they equire at 5 a 6. The market has been made to ap pear active by artificial means; but if the natural tenncy had not been in this direction this would bave been, of course, impossible. The bears and the banks have simply made the most of their opportunity to suddenly put up the rate of interest. The best way for the bulls to meet the case is to accept the seven per cent rate, as established, and they will find that they can get all they require at this figure. The apprehension that the proparatons of the national banks for their quarterly returns on the 1st of October will quicken the demand for money ay have a disturbing effect; but after this bugbear is out of the way we shall, according to present indica-With confidence and fair dealing money would be easy at 4 a 5 per cent now, but the tricks of trade baffle all rdinary calculations. There is a steady but not heavy drain of currency westward. The banks are doing very e in discounts, and the best grade of commercial peper passes at seven per cent.

terest on this side will have the effect of drawing capital from Europe for employment here. The glut of gold in he Bank of France is without precedent, the accumulation of coin and bullion in its vaults exceeding thirtyof all kinds are less than sixty-two millions. The present condition of the Bank of England has only been pardieled on one occasion, namely, in June, 1852, when consols were about one per cent. above par ex-dividend. The coin and bullion in both departments exceeded the dreulation on the 26th of that month to the extent of £700,128. The excess is now considerably less, but neverless there is such an excess, and as the second instance of the kind in the history of the bank, it is interesting. preover this feature is likely to become still more marked, as the reserve of coin is still on the increase, though it already amounts to more than twenty-four ons sterling—the largest total ever accumulated by he bank. The return for the week ending September $24,062,940, while the stock of coin and bullion was er cent, and although loans are made in Lembard sreet at one and a half and even one per cent, there is effect in stimulating speculation. Capitalists are timid and unwilling to lend on any but the best security, and hence, although vast sums are lying idle in the banks, it is difficult for the mass of these in need of accommodation to borrow. Under these circumstances, when money can be employed in all loans on satisfactory collaterals in Wall street, at 6 a 7 per cent, it will be strange if some of the immense surplus in Europe does not find its way across the

The railway share market was dull and drooping uring the morning, following which it remained steady entil after the second regular board, when it was vicoras the result; but before the close a reaction of about a alf per cent took place. The market has been largely oversold, and prices have been unduly depressed since Thursday last, It is reasonable, therefore, to look for a recovery, the fall having averaged five per cent on most

At the early session of the open board railway shares were firm at the closing quotations of last evening. New York Central sold at 108% a 108%; Eric 68%, and Rock Island at 103%. At the first regular board the market was active but lower, with a declining tendency. New York Central closed 1/4 higher than at the same time posterday; Erie ¼, Michigan Southern 1, Fort Wayne ¾, Toiedo, Wabash and Western ¾, Pacific Mail 1¼, Western Union Telegraph 14. Ohio and Mississippi certificates were 1/4 lower. Government securities were inactive and rather heavy. Coupon five-twenties of 1864 dedeclined 1/4. Among the express shares Adams advanced 3%, rolling at 67. Merchants' Union sold at 19%, with

At the open board, at one o'clock, the market was heavy and lower. Erie sold at 67%, Michigan Southern 80 k. Fort Wayne 103 k and Northwestern preferred 8%. At the second regular board the market was steady at the decline with two exceptions. New York Central closed & lower than at the first regular board, Erie 36, Michigan Southern 36, Cleveland and Pittaburg 1, Rock Island M. Northwestern M. do. preferred 2. Ohio and Mississippi certificates 14, Western Union Telegraph 14. Government securities were extremely dull. Coupon five-twenties of 1862 advanced 1/4. while the new issue of 1865 declined V.

At the open board at half-past three a concerted raid was made on the market and prices declined sharply. Subsequently there was a further decline in the midst of a very unsettled state of feeling, Erie touching 6514, but near the close there was a fractional recovery from the lowest point touched, and at six o'clock the market assumed a steadier tone, the following quotations being then current:-New York Central, 107% a 107%; Erie, 66 a 66%; Hudson River, 131 a 183; Reading, 101% a 102; Michigan Southern, 7914 a 7914; Cleveland and Pittsburg, 84 14 a 85; Rock Island, 101 14 a 101 14; Fort Wayne, 102% a 102%; Northwestern, 45% a 45%; do. preferred, 66% a 66%; Milwankee and St. Paul preferred, 62% a 63%; Pacific Mail, 142%; Ohio and Misus-sippl certificates, 26% a 26%; Western Union Telegraph,

The old express shares were firm and in demand at the close, notwithstanding the weakness of the general market, the quotations being for Adam ; and American 66, and United States 67. Merchants' Union was, however, weak, and Wells-Farge was lower, owing to the reported destruction of stations on the Plains.

completed, and we quote the following in connection therewith:—

The Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railway Company having refused to come into the arrangement desired by the Eastern companies, a corporation has been formed under the title of the Indianapolis and St. Louis Railroad Company, to construct another line of road between Indianapolis and ferre Haute, there to connect with the St. Louis, Alton and Terre Haute Railroad. Of this company George W. Cass, Fresident of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road; Stillman Witt, Fresident of the Chennant, Indianapolis and Lafayette road; S. M. Hubby, President of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati road, with Thomas A. Morris, of Indianapolis, and Pliny Hoagland, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, are the directors. General Morris has been elected president, and Edward King, of Indianapolis, Secretary. The surveys for this road have been for some time progressing, and the work has been already commenced and will be prosecuted to a speedy completion.

The operating contract with the St. Louis, Alton and Terre Haute road has been executed by this company under the guarantee of the associate roads, in place of the Terre Haute and Indianapolis road, and on the 11th instant the parties met in St. Louis, and the arrangement was consummated by the formal surrender of Mr. Butler, the President, under the direction and in the presence of the Board, of the main line and Alton branch, which will in future be operated by the Indianapolis and St. Louis road in the interest of the associate frailities of communication botween St. Louis and the Eastern cities by this great central trunk line.

Reuben H. Clark Indicted for Murder-Return of General Schofield to Richmond-New Telegraph Line Opened. FORTRESS MONROS, Sept. 16, 1867. The Grand Jury found a true bill against Reuben H.

Clark, for killing Michael McCarty, a private soldier of the Fifth United States artillery, on the 25th of May last. The accused kept a shop at Mill creek, about one mile The accused kept a shop at Mill creek, about one mile from here. The prisoner pleaded not guilty, and his friends think he will be acquitted. At the time of the homicide the deceased was in Clark's store with a companion, and began a dispute with a woman whose husband they had previously assaulted and beaten. Clark interposed to protect the woman, and during a fracas which ensued the soldier was killed by blows from a club in the hands of Clark, as is charged in the indictment. Clark was immediately arrested by the military, but was subsequently turned over to the civil authorities of Hampton and released on bail in the sum of $10 000. The affair caused a good deal of excitement among the soldiers of the garrison, and the progress of the case is watched with much interest, as an impression seems to prevail that in the event of the acquittal of Clark by the civil authorities General Schoffeld will order an investigation of the case before a military tribunal.

To-merrow Major General Schoffeld and famile will bid.

will order an investigation of the Cast Scholer will bid tribunal.

To-morrow Major General Schofield and family will bid farewell to the Chesapeake Seminary, where they have been spending the summer, and leave for Richmond. All his officers and their families will also return to Richhis officers and their ramiles will also return to Riem-mond in a few days.

The new telegraph line from Norfolk to Welden, making through connection to New York, which has been in course of erection for some time past by the Western Union Company, was completed to-day, and is now in thorough working order.

OPINIONS OF CENERAL GRANT.

Congressmin E. B. Washburne, of Illinois, a confidential friend of General Grant, was in Boston last week, and the Commonwealth gives the following account of what he said about the general :-

and the Commencealth gives the following account of what he said about the general:—

Mr. Washburne regards General Grant as wholly in sympathy with Congress, and its plan of reconstruction, To the particular inquiry of one of our Senators, Mr. Washburne replied that be considered him not only in favor of thorough reconstruction, as the advanced man understands it, but in favor of standing by the blacks in all the civil, social and political rights as conferred by the reconstruction acts. He was in constant consultation with Secretary Stanton, Mr. Washburne affirms, in regard to the late impending change in the Cabinet, receiving notice from Stanton just before he went out that his dimmissal would seen take place. "Not only was this the case," said Mr. Washburne, "but I know that the lotters from Crant to both the Frestient and the Secretary were written by Grant himself, upon consultation with, and in full knowledge of Mr. Stanton." Mr. W. further remarked that he should have deemed it a criminal negligence in Grant not to have accepted the place under the circumstances; and that it is now his duty to remain until the meeting of Congress, even though the Frestient may want to get rid of him.

General Grant, Mr. Washburne further represented, was filled with as great apprehension for the rafety of the country as any man could be. He had remarked that, when in the war, he was comparatively easy about the result; he knew what was to be the end, and made his preparations accordingly; but now he was filled with alarm; he could not forestell what would transpire from day to day, and such anxiety he had never before had. So urgent had he been that Congress should do its full duty at the late session that he personally entrouted Senators to retain the power to dismiss the district commanders which the House had granted, fearing what had since transpired. (This statement in regard to Grant was corroborated by both our Senators, Mr. Washburne adding that Trambull and Sherman alike were deaf to the appeals of the General not an indifferent or caroless observer of passing swents. He was an intelligent, reading man. He consulted the leading journals, and noted carefully the criticisms upon his movements. When his lotters see the light—as they would never when Congress met, if not before—they would be found as loyal, as true to the demands of the times, as any could ask. He did not know that Grant would be retained in the Cabinet ten days longer, but whether or not, the country could rest assured that he was with it, and that it would, sconer or later, recognize in him a fast and valued friend. As the final remark of this conversation. Mr. Washburne said the confidence reposed in General Grant was not displaced, and that all loyal men could stand up for him without hesitancy or the chadow of a doubt.
